No, I haven't lived in my area for a long time. I moved here about a year ago, but I have quickly grown fond of it.

Would you like to see any changes in the area you live?

Overall, I am quite satisfied with the area I live in. However, it would be great to see more green spaces and recreational facilities for residents, as well as an increase in community events and activities to further enhance the sense of belonging in the neighborhood.

Work/Studies

What subjects are you studying?

I am currently studying Computer Science and Mathematics.

Do you like your subject?

Yes, I really enjoy studying Computer Science and Mathematics. They are both fascinating and challenging subjects.

Why did you choose to study that subject?

I chose to study Computer Science and Mathematics because I have always been interested in technology and problem-solving. I wanted to gain a deep understanding of computer systems and algorithms, as well as develop analytical and logical thinking skills.

Is it very interesting?

Yes, it is incredibly interesting. Computer Science allows me to explore various concepts such as programming languages, artificial intelligence, and data analysis. Mathematics, on the other hand, provides a solid foundation for understanding complex algorithms and mathematical models.

Do you prefer to study in the mornings or in the afternoons?

I personally prefer studying in the mornings. I find that my mind is more alert and focused during that time, allowing me to absorb and retain information more effectively.

Are you looking forward to working?

Absolutely, I am really looking forward to applying my knowledge and skills in a professional setting. I am excited about the opportunities to work on innovative projects and contribute to the advancement of technology.

What technology do you use when you study?

When I study, I primarily use a laptop or computer to access online resources, write code, and conduct research. I also make use of various software tools and programming environments specific to Computer Science and Mathematics.

What work do you do?

Currently, I work as a software developer at a technology company. I am responsible for developing and maintaining software applications, solving technical issues, and collaborating with a team of developers.

Why did you choose to do that type of work (or that job)?

I chose to work as a software developer because it aligns with my educational background in Computer Science. I have a passion for coding and creating software solutions, and this job allows me to apply my skills in a practical and meaningful way.

Do you like your job?

Yes, I really enjoy my job as a software developer. I find it fulfilling to solve complex problems, work with cutting-edge technologies, and contribute to the development of innovative software applications.

Do you miss being a student?

While I do appreciate the freedom and resources that come with being a student, I don't necessarily miss it. I am enjoying the challenges and opportunities that come with my professional career.

What technology do you use at work?

At work, I use various technologies depending on the project requirements. This includes programming languages such as Java, Python, and JavaScript, as well as development frameworks, databases, and version control systems.

Who helps you the most? And how?

In my work, my colleagues and teammates are the ones who help me the most. We collaborate and support each other in problem-solving, sharing knowledge, and improving our skills. Additionally, we have experienced mentors who provide guidance and assistance when needed.

Where do you work?

I work at a technology company located in the city center. It's a modern and vibrant workplace environment that fosters creativity and collaboration.

Is it a good place to work?

Yes, it is a great place to work. The company values work-life balance, offers competitive benefits, and provides opportunities for professional growth and development. The work culture is supportive and encourages innovation.

Would you like the place where you work to make any changes?

I am quite satisfied with the place where I work. However, if there were any changes, it would be great to have more recreational facilities, such as a gym or relaxation areas, to promote employee well-being.

Where do you study?

I study at a local university. It has well-equipped libraries, computer labs, and dedicated study spaces that cater to the needs of students.

Is it a good place to study?

Yes, it is an excellent place to study. The university provides a conducive learning environment, knowledgeable professors, and a wide range of resources to support academic growth.

Would you like the place where you study to make any changes?

Overall, I am satisfied with the place where I study. However, it would be beneficial to have more study groups or collaborative spaces where students can engage in group discussions and projects.

Hometown

Where is your hometown?

My hometown is located in Reykjavik, Iceland.

Is that a big city or a small place?

Reykjavik is the capital city of Iceland, but in comparison to other capital cities, it is relatively small. However, it is the largest city in Iceland and the economic and cultural center of the country.

Do you like your hometown?

Yes, I really like my hometown. It holds a special place in my heart, and I have many fond memories associated with it.

What do you like (most) about your hometown?

One of the things I like most about my hometown is its natural beauty. Reykjavik is surrounded by stunning landscapes, including mountains, geothermal springs, and the Atlantic Ocean. The city has a unique charm that blends modernity with nature.

Is there anything you disliked about it?

While I have a deep affection for my hometown, one thing that can be challenging is the high cost of living. The prices for housing, food, and other necessities can be quite high compared to other places.

How long have you been living there?

I have been living in Reykjavik for my entire life. I was born and raised here.

Do you like living there?

Yes, I really enjoy living here. The city offers a high quality of life, with excellent healthcare, education, and cultural opportunities. It's a vibrant and safe place to live.

Do you think you'll continue living there for a long time?

While I can't predict the future with certainty, I do have a strong attachment to my hometown and can envision myself living here for a long time. However, opportunities and circumstances may lead me to explore other places in the future.

Please describe your hometown a little.

Reykjavik is a picturesque city that blends modern architecture with traditional Icelandic charm. It has a vibrant arts and music scene, with numerous galleries, museums, and music festivals. The city center is compact and easily walkable, with a variety of shops, cafes, and restaurants. The people of Reykjavik are friendly and welcoming, adding to the overall sense of community.

What's your hometown famous for?

Reykjavik is famous for its natural wonders, such as the Northern Lights and the Blue Lagoon. It is also known for its rich Viking history, with numerous historical sites and museums that showcase Iceland's fascinating past. Additionally, Reykjavik is renowned for its creative and innovative music scene, producing internationally acclaimed artists.

Did you learn about the history of your hometown at school?

Yes, we did learn about the history of Reykjavik and its significance in Icelandic history. We studied the settlement of Iceland, the establishment of Reykjavik as a trading post, and its development into the capital city.

What's (the name of) your hometown?

My hometown is called Reykjavik.

Is that a big city or a small place?

Reykjavik is a small city in terms of population compared to other capital cities, but it is the largest city in Iceland.

How long have you lived there?

As I mentioned earlier, I have lived in Reykjavik for my entire life.

Home/Accommodation

Do you live in a house or a flat?

I live in a flat.

Can you describe the place where you live?

I live in a modern apartment building located in the city center. It has multiple floors and is surrounded by other similar buildings.

How long have you lived there?

I have lived in my current flat for about two years.

Please describe the room you live in.

I have a spacious living room that is filled with natural light from large windows. It has comfortable furniture, a television, and a dining area.

What part of your home do you like the most?

I particularly enjoy spending time in my bedroom. It's a cozy and peaceful space where I can relax and unwind.

Who do you live with?

I live with two of my close friends. We share the flat and split the rent and expenses.

What room does your family spend most of the time in?

Since I live with friends, we don't have family members residing with us. However, when my family visits, we usually spend time together in the living room.

What do you usually do in your flat?

In my flat, I usually spend my time studying, relaxing, and socializing with my flatmates. We often cook together and watch movies in the living room.

What kinds of accommodation do you live in?

I currently live in a rented apartment. It's a comfortable and convenient option for me at this stage of my life.

Do you plan to live there for a long time?

I don't have any immediate plans to move, so I might continue living in this flat for a few more years. However, my long-term plans may change depending on my circumstances.

Do you prefer living in a house or a flat?

Personally, I prefer living in a flat. I like the convenience and ease of maintenance that comes with living in an apartment. Additionally, being in the city center allows for better access to amenities and public transportation.

Are the transport facilities to your home very good?

Yes, the transport facilities to my flat are excellent. There are bus stops and a subway station nearby, making it easy to commute to different parts of the city.

What kind of house or flat do you want to live in the future?

In the future, I would like to live in a house with a small garden. I appreciate having some outdoor space where I can relax and enjoy nature.

What's your favorite room in your apartment/house?

As I mentioned earlier, my favorite room in my flat is my bedroom. It's a personal sanctuary where I can have some privacy and unwind after a long day.

What makes you feel pleasant in your home?

Having a clean and organized living space makes me feel pleasant in my home. It's important for me to create a comfortable and welcoming environment.

What's the difference between where you are living now and where you have lived in the past?

The main difference between my current flat and the previous places I've lived in is the location. My current flat is centrally located, whereas my previous homes were in quieter residential areas.

Do you think it is important to live in a comfortable environment?

Yes, I believe it is crucial to live in a comfortable environment. A comfortable living space contributes to our overall well-being and helps us relax and recharge. It can positively impact our physical and mental health.

Collecting things

Do you collect things?

Yeah, I do collect things. I find it fascinating to gather items that hold sentimental value or have a special meaning to me. It's like building a personal treasure trove of memories.

Are there any things you keep from childhood?

Absolutely! I have a few cherished items from my childhood that I still keep. I have a box filled with old toys, handmade crafts, and even some school projects. It's a nostalgic reminder of the carefree days of my youth.

Where do you usually keep things you need?

I usually keep things I need in specific places where I can easily access them. For example, important documents like my passport or academic certificates are kept in a secure folder in my desk drawer. Other items, like books or gadgets, have designated shelves or storage areas where I can find them quickly.

Would you keep old things for a long time? Why?

It depends on the item and its significance to me. If something holds sentimental value or has a unique story behind it, I tend to keep it for a long time. These objects serve as reminders of the past, allowing me to revisit memories and reflect on how far I've come. However, if something loses its meaning or becomes unnecessary, I'm more likely to let it go and make space for new experiences.

Music

Do a lot of people like music?

Yes, a lot of people, including students, enjoy music. Music is a universal form of expression and has the power to evoke emotions and connect people from different backgrounds.

What kind of music do you listen to?

The kind of music I listen to depends on my mood and personal preferences. I enjoy a wide range of genres such as pop, rock, hip-hop, classical, and electronic music. I like exploring new artists and discovering different styles of music.

Is it easy to learn music?

Learning music can be both challenging and rewarding. It requires dedication, practice, and a willingness to learn and improve. While some aspects of music, such as rhythm and melody, can be easier to grasp, mastering an instrument or developing vocal skills can take time and effort. However, with proper guidance and regular practice, anyone can learn and enjoy making music.

Do you have music lessons at school?

Yes, many schools offer music lessons as part of their curriculum. These lessons may cover various aspects of music, such as playing instruments, singing, music theory, and music history. Music education in schools provides students with an opportunity to explore their musical interests, develop their skills, and appreciate different musical styles. It can also foster creativity, teamwork, and self-expression among students.

Losing things

Do you often lose things?

No, I don't lose things very often. I try to keep track of my belongings and stay organized.

What can we do to avoid losing things?

To avoid losing things, it's important to have a designated place for items and develop a habit of putting them back in that place. Being organized and decluttering regularly can also help.

Why do some people tend to lose things more often than others?

Some people may be more forgetful or easily distracted, which can contribute to them losing things more frequently. Busy schedules and stress can also make it harder to keep track of belongings.

What will you do if you find something lost by others?

If I find something lost by someone else, I would try to locate the owner. I might check if there's any identification on the item or ask people nearby if they know who it belongs to. If I can't find the owner, I would consider giving it to a lost and found office or reporting it to the appropriate authority.

Sweets
