Describe an occasion when you helped a person

You should say

What the situation was

Who you helped

How you helped

And explain how you felt after giving help

The thing I would like to share with you is that I helped a lovely girl to take a photo of her and that was a great experience. It happened in a local music shop which was located on the top of the mountain about a few months ago. That girl told me that the photo I took for her was really nice and lovely.

Let me tell you more about it. It was on a beautiful spring afternoon. At that time I was looking around in the music shop and I felt extremely excited because I saw many kinds of old CDs and some of them were priceless. Suddenly a beautiful girl walked towards me and said hello to me. After a short conversation, I found that she was a visitor from another city which was far away from here. She met her boyfriend in this shop but now broke up. She came to this shop again and wanted to take a photo with it in order to keep this memory. She asked me whether I could help her or not. I said I was happy to do her the favor. After she checked the photo, she said I was a really good photographer! Finally she gave me her Wechat ID and we became very good friends till now.

It was a really enjoyable experience and I am so glad to meet a good friend like her too.

I remember it was on a hot summer day. At that time I was walking through the corridor of the theatre. I got frustrated by which instrument I should choose to play because our school asked us to make a decision anytime sooner. Suddenly, I saw a big music shop not far away from me. After walking into the music shop, I saw many kinds of limited old CDs and a lady standing behind the front desk was playing the guitar. I was attracted by the sound she made. I decided to talk to her about my problem since I could feel she was a music lover too. Surprisingly, she was so kind and told me that she used to have the same kind of problem. But then she decided to choose guitar since the sound of it was so beautiful and touching. She also said that I should always listen to my own voice and made decisions. I was stunned by her words and decided to choose guitar too. Until now, I can still remember the lady's smile on her face when she was playing the guitar, which was a kind of smile a person will have when she is doing something she really loves! I am really moved by that. And I also appreciate for her sincere help.

Where you were searching on the internet

And how you felt about the information

I would like to talk about a time when I looked for information on a website called "The unknown me" which contains autobiographies of celebrities and updates public comments about each autobiography regularly. It was fairly popular among post-90s. The first time I found this website was about a couple of years ago and it was an impressive experience.

Let me tell you more about it. It was on a hot summer day. At that time, I was so depressed because I was frustrated with my homework. I needed to look for some storied of famous celebrities but I couldn't find anything I was satisfied with. My sister retweeted me a story on a website. I opened it and surprisingly found that the story was written by Zhang Jike who was the most influential athlete in China. In the story, I noticed that he was born in a poor family. He earned money at a young age and supported himself in a table tennis team. He stressed that he had to deal with many body injuries but never gave up. I was motivated by his spirit as wells as his life stories. After reading his story, I realized I could use his story in my homework. Till now, I am still using this website to look for information; the information on it is always really accurate and useful. It can always help me a lot.
