潇逸 复习一下第一节课关于词性的部分。

Nowadays, both men and women work full-time. Therefore, they have to share household task equally. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

The gender gap is narrowing in terms of workplace. More and more women can have full-time jobs. Women are more prefer to pursue their career goals and they do not have enough time to handle household.

Women are burden with more pressure than men and their energy is not full as men. Women take care of housework such as raise children, cooking and cleaning all by themselves and they have to deal with complicated working relationships at the same time, exhausting their charm at the end. Because of this, some people think household to be shared equally by husbands and wives. Husbands will understand the difficulty of women and they will show more respect to their wife.

Actually, to do household well needs patience and carefulness. Asking men and women to share household equally is not impractical. Some men may feel lose face to be pushed to handle household. And men are more likely careless and impatient. Women are more possible to cope with the "disaster" left by their unwilling and clumsy husband. This will cause quarrels and make women more tired.

✓ A home should not be a place ^{adj.} fulling with ^{adj.} calculates. There is no necessary to emphasize equality deliberately. They can hire a housekeeping person or a nurse to ease the burden of household if needed. Each family member is good at different things and household should not be a bind.
