

老师，虽然你要求我们用简单句，但是我还是用了几个if从句，因为我实在想不出来如果不用if从句我那几个句子该怎么写，请原谅我的无知~~~

Children should obey rules at home and at school. Strict discipline sometimes may be important, but I believe that it can have an influence on children's solving-problem skills.

The main function of rules is to develop children's sense of responsibility for their behavior and good behavior. Children cannot know a result of their behavior, but they can learn how to adapt to the society by rules. For example, it is important for children's adult life to learn how to show good manners and how to show their kindness to others. If there are no rules to forbid them to say dirty words and bully, they cannot understand how to face adults' social relations.

Sometimes, rules will have a bad influence on children's growth, if parents force their children to obey rules. Relying heavily on rules cannot help them address problems independently and develop time-management skills. It is difficult for them to work in companies independently and succeed in the workplace.

Obeying rules will limit children's imagination, and children cannot tackle problems by a wide range of methods. Children do not dare to do something in practice because they are afraid of punishment if they do not obey rules. For example, if they learn a way to address math problems, few of them can try another way. Working people will face complicated problems and those without creative skills do not have methods to solve them.

语法的问题不太大、表达的问题比较明显。
