题目: Some people think that schools should select pupils according to their academic abilities, while others believe that it is better to have pupils with different abilities study together. Discuss both views and give your own opinion.

as intense competition is increasing among schools, thus they prefer to make high-level pupils study together. I do not agree with this method and streaming is not a better way to develop pupils' academic performance.

students are arranged to study in different classes. this makes teachers more convenient to prepare practice tests for students and pupils also can have big progress. excellent students can take more practices and absorb more complex information in schools. low-level students can receive more guidance and attention from teachers. as a result of this, bright students will keep them interested and reduce boredom, low ability students also can become more confident than before.

the mixed ability class encourages students to help each other and this can enhance their awareness of cooperation. high-performers help low-level students and their abilities are improved because of this. low-achieving students will understand the importance of learning from others and they also can appreciate others' advantages. this allows all pupils to have a good job in the future.

diverse students study in a same class and they have different interests. this can enable them to develop in different fields and to become a better person. pupils have their own talents. for example, some excellent students may be not good at arts and low-performers may have other hobbies. therefore, students will select diverse positions and they can have creativity to address problems. in my opinion, the mixed ability class is beneficial to students' development and streaming is not fit all students
