 - 3) Why you didn't like it before
 - 4) Why you like it now

● P3

1. Do you think it's important for teachers to make content interesting?
 2. What do you think of online courses?
- Where do old people get their knowledge?

● A historical period you want to know more about

- 1) What it is
- 2) How did you know it
- 3) What happened during that period
- 4) Why you are so interested in it

The historical period I'd like to talk about is the Tang dynasty, which is generally regarded as a high point in Chinese civilization, and a golden age of cosmopolitan culture. And the Tang capital at Chang'an was the most populous and prosperous city in the world. What's more, the history of Tang dynasty can be traced back to about 1300 years ago.

I got to know it from a documentary last year.

The dynasty was founded by the Li family, who overthrew the violent rule of the last dynasty – Sui. Tang dynasty had experienced 22 imperial rules, and more than half of the emperors were upright and dedicated. In addition, it also appeared the only female emperor Wu Zetian in Chinese history.

I am so interested in that period from a lot of reasons, and the most obvious one is that the Tang dynasty was an era of cultural openness. It was the first dynasty that appeared feminism. There were a lot of women in the office at that time. Moreover, two of China's most famous poets, Li Bai and Du Fu, belonged to this age, as did many famous painters such as Han Gan. Obviously, it was a time of cultural prosperity.

2. Different from the present aesthetic idea, the women in the Tang dynasty felt that it was beautiful to be fat. Moreover, the clothes at that time were designed boldly enough to show people's body shape. For example, there were a lot of strapless dresses at that time.

3. At that time, both the nobility and ordinary people had a lot of entertainment activities, such as playing polo and Cuju, a kind of Chinese traditional football game. I don't think people living in that period would be bored.

To conclusion, that is why I am so interested in that period.

P3

1. Will you study the history of other countries?
2. Is it important for children to learn history?
3. how do children learn history?

● Describe an award you really wanted to win

1. What it was
2. How you got to know that award
3. What needed to be done to win the award

4. Why you wanted to win it

The award that I wanted to win is the Golden Melody Award of my university in 2018. It is our school's biggest and the most important award in the art type.

I got to know that award from my best friend Peter, who is a jazz dancer in my university. Now, he is about 20 years old. And in my eyes, Peter is rather handsome with a pair of deep eyes. He introduced the competition to me.

If I wanted to win that award, I needed to beat all the people with artistic talent to win the best singer of my university.

I wanted to win the Golden Melody Award for some reasons.

First, when I was in high school, I insisted on participating in the singing contest for three years, but the school didn't give me a chance to enter the rematch, simple because my academic score was not so good at that time. I got to know the reason because I asked my teacher later. She said that my singing ability could be the winner. I think art shouldn't be tired up with anything else, it's pure. I was very disappointed in my high school, and that affair was my regret all the time. Hence, I really wanted to get a champion to demonstrate myself.

Second, I love singing. I thought that award would be the best gift for my birthday.

Although up to now my dream hasn't come true, but I think it is positive, so I will not give up.

● A practical skill you have learned

1. What it was
2. Who you learned it from
3. How you've learned it
4. Why you want to learn this skill

The skill I'd like to describe is Japanese, which is the official language of Japan. And I think that language is rather beautiful due to its lyric pronunciation.

I learned it with my friend Peter + 名职年外性

I learned it in many ways. For example, I would like to listen to Japanese radio on each morning.

Moreover, I also insisted on watching Japanese animation every day.

I want to learn this skill for some reasons.

First, I was planning to have a trip to Japan at that time because my friend Anna told me that Japan has 横轴 2 , such as the FUJI mountain and MEIJI shrine. I wanted to appreciate those views and take photos with them to save as my good memories. And I believed that Japanese would make the trip better.

Second, I hoped this skill could improve my confidence and patience. Because Peter said that Japanese is rather difficult. + 难逻辑【改变最后一句时态 : I may forget~】

Apparently, I did it. So, this skill tells me that 横轴 6.

The new facility I want to describe is a park named TIANZHEN, which is located in the city centre.

It is by far the largest park in our city, and which was built about 6 months ago.

The park was built to provide leisure for the citizens, so we can do all kinds of recreational activities there, including boating, flying kites, doing taichi and so on.

As for my feelings, I think it is an ideal place to kill time and relax. I mean;

You will find many beautiful natural views in it, such as Wanshou Hill and Xianzi Lake. Those landscapes change with the seasons. On the weekends, we can appreciate the views there to relieve the stress from study or work deadlines.

Second, the traffic system around that park is rather excellent. For example, there are many subway stations and bus stops near the gate of it. We can go there easily.

Third, all kinds of sports facilities have been built in the park, like the badminton field and jogging track. Therefore, it is the very place to do exercises in the morning or after dinner, which can help the public strengthen their muscles and improve their immune system.

Generally speaking, that is why I want to describe this park to you.

The impressive advertisement I'd like to talk about is a TV advertisement, which is a tourism ad about Hangzhou. And Hangzhou + 名位 title 历

I saw it last month. At that time, I was watching TV, and this ad interrupted the program, but it also made a deep impression on me.

I saw this ad on Zhejiang TV station, which is the official TV station of Zhejiang province.

There are many reasons why I think this ad is very impressive,

First, scenes of this advertisement are so exquisite, with high definition and excellent colour matching. When I was watching this advertisement, I felt as if I were in a fairy tale world.

Second, it describes 横轴 2 of Hangzhou, including the West lake, Lingyin temple and Leifeng pagoda. It whetted my appetite to travel to Hangzhou.

More importantly, the advertisement also shows many famous and toothsome local dishes, such as Longjin shrimp and Dongpo pork. I am a foodie, so I really want to try them in person.

- A food that people may eat on a special occasion or event

- 1) What it is
- 2) What event people may eat it

- 3) What it looks like
- 4) Why people may eat it on that event

The food I'd like to describe is called Suncake, which is a kind of Chinese traditional cookie that people may eat on Spring Festival. The diameter of the suncake is about 10 centimetres. Its round shape looks like the sun, so we call it as suncake. Besides, the colour of the suncake is usually golden and the filling is normally consisted of different nuts, including peanut, walnut and so on. Moreover, there are different types of Chinese elements on the top of the suncake as its pattern, such as dragon, phoenix, and sunflower.

On Spring Festival, the 1st day of the 1st lunar month, people in China would like to make some suncakes to treat guests and send to families as a kind of meaningful gift.

There are many reasons why like to eat suncake on that event.

1st, as what I said before, we often use dragon or phoenix as the pattern of suncake because those elements 横轴 1. So we think suncake can bring good fortune for us.

2nd, every family needs to clean their rooms during the spring festival. Hence, when we free tired, we will eat some suncake to help recharge our batteries because suncake is made of nuts, which are full of energy.

- 1) What is it
 - 2) When you bought it and where you bought it
 - 3) Why you bought it
 - 4) Why you rarely use it

The thing I'd like to talk about is Tangsuit, which is a kind of Chinese traditional clothes that people may wear on formal occasions in some special regions, like GUANGXI.

Last year, I bought a piece of yellow tangsuit in a shopping mall near my home because I was deeply attracted by its exquisite design and bright colour. On that clothes, there is a pattern similar to the Chinese dragon. That tangsuit has 2 long sleeves and a standing collar. The colour is pink, which is my favourite one.

However, I rarely use it. Because

1st, in the past year, I had to struggle with my homework till the midnight every day due to the fierce competition in China. So, I didn't have the time to attend any parties. I mean, there was no chance for me to wear that kind of formal clothes.

2nd, tangsuit was a popular clothing in the period of the republic of China. From a modern aesthetic point of view, it is a bit out of date.

More importantly, its colour is too bright for everyday wear. Especially the vivid dragon on it, which makes the dress exaggerated if it is worn out at ordinary times.

Generally, that is why I rarely wear it.
