
2019年06月29日雅思口语考试预测

 Sina Weibo @仙子张天真 - 学为贵

本预测全球通用，行业领先

Part 1

必考题基本稳定：name; accommodation; study or work; hometown

Social media & email

Perfume

Tea & coffee

Sharing

Photography

Visit & relatives

Rubbish

Making plans

Transportation

Smile

Movie star

Part one 的话题小问参考：全科预测请移步微博@ 雅思界扛把子 或者【学位贵 app】

Part 2

特殊类

- A kind of Healthy lifestyle / A way you do to keep healthy

1) What it is

I want to describe 3 ways that I am using to help keep healthy, including jogging in the park every morning, eating a lot of fruit and vegetables, and listening to the light music when I feel upset or depressed.

2) When you may do it

3) How did you know about it

All three ways were recommended by my friend Anna. + 职业, 外形, 性格

4) Why it is a healthy lifestyle

跑步+3

蔬菜水果+vitamins/fibre/minerals+4

听音乐+5+world+trouble.

P3

1. How do schools teach students to stay healthy?
2. What other ways do people in your country use to stay healthy?
3. What lifestyle do you think is unhealthy?

● A historical period you want to know more about

- 1) What it is
- 2) How did you know it
- 3) What happened during that period
- 4) Why you are so interested in it

The historical period I'd like to talk about is the Tang dynasty, which is generally regarded as a high point in Chinese civilization, and a golden age of cosmopolitan culture. And the Tang capital at Chang'an was the most populous and prosperous city in the world. What's more, the history of Tang dynasty can be traced back to about 1300 years ago.

I got to know it from a documentary last year.

The dynasty was founded by the Li family, who overthrew the violent rule of the last dynasty –

Sui. Tang dynasty had experienced 22 imperial rules, and more than half of the emperors were upright and dedicated. In addition, it also appeared the only female emperor Wu zetian in Chinese history.

I am so interested in that period from a lot of reasons, and the most obvious one is that the Tang dynasty was an era of cultural openness. It was the first dynasty that appeared feminism. There were a lot of women in the office at that time. Moreover, two of China's most famous poets, Li Bai and Du Fu, belonged to this age, as did many famous painters such as Han Gan. Obviously, it was a time of cultural prosperity.

2. Different from the present aesthetic idea, the women in the Tang dynasty felt that it was beautiful to be fat. Moreover, the clothes at that time were designed boldly enough to show people's body shape. For example, there were a lot of strapless dresses at that time.

3. At that time, both the nobility and ordinary people had a lot of entertainment activities, such as playing polo and Cuju, a kind of Chinese traditional football game. I don't think people living in that period would be bored.

To conclusion, that is why I am so interested in that period.

P3

1. Will you study the history of other countries?
2. Is it important for children to learn history?
3. how do children learn history?
4. Why some people dislike studying history?

地点建筑类

- Describe a historical building you have been to and what you learnt there

-
1. Where it is
 2. What it looks like
 3. What learned from it
 4. How you felt about it

The historical building I'd like to describe is the Yaowu temple, which is located in the city centre of Yunguang. It's the oldest temple there, and the history of it can be traced back to about 1000 years ago.

That temple has 3 floors. The wall's colour is red because it 横轴 1. Moreover, on the temple, you can see four cornice like Chinese dragon.

I learned the background story of that temple. It was a place in memory of WANGXI, who had helped the people of the place fend off foreign invaders about 1000 years ago.

As for my feelings, it is a good place for travelling. Because

1. 交通
2. 食物【vegetarian food】
3. 风景

P3

- 1) Is it necessary to protect old buildings? 【文化作用+经济作用】
- 2) What's the difference between old buildings and new buildings?
- 3) What are the interesting old buildings in China?
- 4) What are the differences between the houses in the past and present?

● An ideal house

考试时态不固定，如果是 where it is 就用一般现在时讲客观状态。

- 1) Where the house would be located

I hope my ideal house can be located next to the Summer Palace. It is the biggest royal garden of China. Therefore, I can enjoy the 横轴 2 of the Summer Palace from my window every day.

2) What it would look like

That house had better have three floors, I can set the third floor as my private garden and plant the flowers I like. I think it would be greater if the second floor of the house had 5 bedrooms. I can take my parents and grandparents to live with me.

3) Why you think it would be your ideal house

Oh, I almost forgot to mention it. [捂嘴轻笑]

It would be better if there were some delicious restaurants in the community. I' m a foodie, so that house will meet my desire.

I hope there will be a lot of sports equipment in the community, such as basketball courts, badminton fields and so on, so that every day after work, I can do various sports to strengthen my muscle and enhance my coordination.

I also hope that the government can build many subway stations and bus stops at the gate of the community. In this way, it will be more convenient to travel.

Generally , that' s why I want to have such a house

● P3

1. In china, what kind of house is more popular?
2. What are the advantages and disadvantages of living in city and countryside?

● A newly built public facility

- 1) Where it is
- 2) When was it built
- 3) What could you do there

4) How you feel about it

The new facility I want to describe is a park named TIANZHEN, which is located in the city centre.

It is by far the largest park in our city, and which was built about 6 months ago.

The park was built to provide leisure for the citizens, so we can do all kinds of recreational activities there, including boating, flying kites, doing taichi and so on.

As for my feelings, I think it is an ideal place to kill time and relax. I mean;

You will find many beautiful natural views in it, such as Wanshou Hill and Xianzi Lake. Those landscapes change with the seasons. On the weekends, we can appreciate the views there to relieve the stress from study or work deadlines.

Second, the traffic system around that park is rather excellent. For example, there are many subway stations and bus stops near the gate of it. We can go there easily.

Third, all kinds of sports facilities have been built in the park, like the badminton field and jogging track. Therefore, it is the very place to do exercises in the morning or after dinner, which can help the public strengthen their muscles and improve their immune system.

Generally speaking, that is why I want to describe this park to you.

人物类

● A person who you wanted to be similar to when you were growing up

1) Who the person is

名职年外性

2) What's your relationship

I got to know him about 10 years ago, because he moved to the next door of my home at that time

3) What aspects you wanted to be similar

4) Why you wanted to be similar to this person

Until now, I wish I could be like him. (用这个句子把答案引回一般现在时降低难度)

外表 he is rather handsome with a muscular figure 【笑】 and a straight nose. Nearly all the girls in my community want to find a boyfriend like him. So, I especially want to be as popular as him.

性格 John is a hospitable and obliging man. For example, he often donates money to help impoverished people in remote areas. His behavior influenced me deeply. When I was young, I had a dream to be a superman to save the world. Maybe 【边说边笑】 this dream will never come true, but 【停顿】 I can use my ability to help those in need.

学识 John is also an intelligent person who graduated from Cambridge university about 5 years ago. When the students in my community get in academic trouble, he' d like to help them without hesitation. My parents always hope that I can study in a good university. Hence, I also hope to be as knowledgeable as him.

● An intelligent person

- 1) Who the person is
- 2) How you came to know this person
- 3) What kinds of things this person likes to do
- 4) Why do you think this person is so intelligent

前三问同第一题

I think he is rather clever for many reasons

外表

性格 John is an obliging man. For example, if you get in trouble, he would like to give you a hand without hesitation. And he will always have a variety of unique but useful ways to help you. I remember once I accidentally dropped my key in the grass and couldn' t find it. He helped me with a magnet.

学识 John is also a knowledgeable person. he graduated from Cambridge University 5 years ago. Whenever the students in my community encounter academic problems, he is always willing to assist them. Moreover, he can solve the same problem in different ways, some of which I have never even heard of.

艺术 John has a gift in art. For example, he can sing, dance and play all kinds of musical instruments, such as piano, guitar, violin and so on. What I admire most is that it only takes him one month to learn any new art skill.

You see, what a clever person he is.

P3

1. Is intelligence important in today's society?
2. Can technology improve intelligence?
3. Do you think teachers are important in students' learning process?
4. Who do you think is more important in children's education, the parent or the teacher?
5. Do you think highly intelligent people are usually selfish?

A person who helped you to achieve a goal

媒体娱乐

● An impressive advertisement

1. What it is & what it is about
2. When you saw it
3. Where you saw it
4. Why do you think it is so impressive

The impressive advertisement I'd like to talk about is a TV advertisement, which is a tourism ad about Hangzhou. And Hangzhou + 名位 title 历

I saw it last month. At that time, I was watching TV, and this ad interrupted the program, but it also made a deep impression on me.

I saw this ad on Zhejiang TV station, which is the official TV station of Zhejiang province.

There are many reasons why I think this ad is very impressive,

First, scenes of this advertisement are so exquisite, with high definition and excellent colour matching. When I was watching this advertisement, I felt as if I were in a fairy tale world.

Second, it describes 横轴 2 of Hangzhou, including the West lake, Lingyin temple and Leifeng pagoda. It whetted my appetite to travel to Hangzhou.

More importantly, the advertisement also shows many famous and toothsome local dishes, such as Longjin shrimp and Dongpo pork. I am a foodie, so I really want to try them in person.

Generally speaking, that is why I want to describe the advertisement to you.

P3

- 1) What is the importance of music in advertising?
- 2) what are the kinds of advertisements that are often seen in China?
- 3) Do you think young people are more easily influenced by advertisements?
- 4) what ways that companies can do to improve their sales?
- 5) What is the importance for the governments to control the types of advertisements allowed on TV?
- 6) how ads aimed at kids may have a negative impact?

● A piece of good news you heard (from TV) recently

- 1) What it was
- 2) When you got it
- 3) How you got it
- 4) Why you think it was a good piece of news

参见 特殊 类 – law

P3

-
1. How people get information now?
 2. Should schools help students get information?
 3. Do people in your country pay more attention to domestic news or international news?
 4. Why do some people like to share news on social media?

物品类

● A piece of clothing you' d like to wear on formal occasions

You should say:

- 1) What the clothes is
- 2) When that occasions happened
- 3) What the clothes looks like
- 4) Why did you wore it and how other people felt about it

The clothes I' d like to describe is a piece of tang suit, which is a kind of Chinese traditional clothes that people may wear on formal occasions, like new year gala, wedding ceremony and so on. The history of tang suit can be traced back about 200 years ago. And it was quite popular in the Republic of China.

6 months ago, I wore my tang suit to attend my best Anna' s wedding. That wedding took place at a five-star hotel named "innocence "in Beijing. And my tang suit helped me get a lot of compliments that day because of its unique appearance.

It is a small-sized blue clothes which has a pair of long sleeves. In the middle of the clothes, there is a pattern which shows the landscapes of the summer palace that embroidered [im'broided] by 5 old masters. I mean; on the left side of my clothes, you can see a huge lake and a stone bridge. On the right side, you will find a winding corridor that is surrounded by some willows. In the central area of that pattern, there is a high golden pagoda. All of those elements make the tang suit look classic and exquisite.

I wore the tang suit because I think a lot of people would wear suits and evening dress on that day. Tang suit could be more unique and special. Moreover, my friend is very fond of traditional culture, so wearing the tang suit can also show my respect to her wedding.

As for how other people felt about that clothes, I would say they have good taste (轻笑). Many of the guests said that my tang suit was the most exquisite classical clothes they had ever seen. I was very shy. Although that clothes is gorgeous and diligent, its price is not comparable to that of many big – name gowns. So I was quite satisfied and pleased with this evaluation.

P3

- (1). Do uniforms popular in china?
- (2). Does personality affect how people choose what to wear?
- (3). When should people wear formal clothes?
- (4). Do people wear formal clothes more often than before?
- (5). What clothes do university students wear for their graduation ceremonies?

● A special thing you took home from a tourist attraction

1. What it was
2. When you bought them
3. What it looks like
4. Why you took it home

The thing I'd like to describe is a piece of Tang-suit, which is a kind of Chinese traditional clothes that people may wear on formal occasions. My tang-suit is a large-sized clothes. The colour is bright yellow, which is my favourite one. As for the details, it has 2 long sleeves and a standing collar. On it, you can also see a pattern similar to the Chinese dragon.

I bought it about 6 months ago, when I was travelling in Xi' an, a poetic and picturesque city located in the north of China. The history of that city can be traced back to about 3000 years ago.

I took it home for some reasons.

1st, I saw the pattern model of Chinese dragon on that dress, and which 横轴 1. Therefore, I thought that piece of clothing would bring me good fortune.

2nd, as what I said before, we may wear tang-suit on formal occasions. As a media student, I have to attend all kinds of parties. So, I often wear that clothes to show my respect and sincerity to other people.

3rd, tang-suit was rather popular in ancient China, and I especially enjoy studying Chinese traditional culture and customs. Apparently, that dress is my taste.

P3

- 1) What kind of souvenirs do people buy?
- 2) Are people buying souvenirs good for the locals?

● Sth. you bought but you rarely use

- 1) What is it
- 2) When you bought it and where you bought it
- 3) Why you bought it
- 4) Why you rarely use it

The thing I'd like to talk about is Tangsuit, which is a kind of Chinese traditional clothes that people may wear on formal occasions in some special regions, like GUANGXI.

Last year, I bought a piece of yellow tangsuit in a shopping mall near my home because I was deeply attracted by its exquisite design and bright colour. On that clothes, there is a pattern similar to the Chinese dragon. That tangsuit has 2 long sleeves and a standing collar.

The colour is pink, which is my favourite one.

However, I rarely use it. Because

1st, in the past year, I had to struggle with my homework till the midnight every day due to the fierce competition in China. So, I didn' t have the time to attend any parties. I mean; there was no chance for me to wear that kind of formal clothes.

2nd, tangsuit was a popular clothing in the period of the republic of China. From a modern aesthetic point of view, it is a bit out of date.

More importantly, its colour is too bright for everyday wear. Especially the vivid dragon on it, which makes the dress exaggerated if it is worn out at ordinary times.

Generally, that is why I rarely wear it.

P3

1. What do people in your country mostly recycle?
2. What the government can do to promote recycling?

事件类

● A time you invited your friends or family to have a dinner at home or in a restaurant

1. When it happened
2. Where you had it
3. Who took part in it
4. How other people felt about that meal

Last spring festival, I invited nearly all the family members to my home to have a party together, for celebrating the most important festival in China.

We had a dinner in my home. It' s a sweet flat located in the north of my city, and which was built about 10 years ago. There are many subway stations and bus stops near my home so they could be easily reached.

I invited nearly all my direct relatives to come since we hadn't seen each other for such a long time.

They all said it was an unforgettable dinner.

My parents and I prepared a feast to treat them. I mean; We made a lot of mouth-watering and toothsome dishes, like dongpo pork, kunpao chicken, peking duck and so on. And that dinner (横轴 11) ed.

Second, after the dinner, we also did recreational activities together, including playing mahjong and lighting fireworks. Those activities (横轴 5)ed

Generally speaking, that is the dinner what I want to say.

P3

- 1) Do people in China like to eat at home or eat outside?
- 2) What is the difference between the food that Chinese people eat on festivals and in their daily life?

● A party you enjoyed

You should say:

- 1) When it happened
- 2) Whose party it was
- 3) What did you do on that party
- 4) how you felt about it

Last spring festival, my grandma organised a family party in her home. And she invited nearly all the family members to take part in.

Spring festival is one of the most important festivals in China because people who study and work outside will return to their hometowns to have a reunion dinner their families. It is the tradition and so is my family.

On that day, I arrived at my grandma's home very early and helped her decorate the room. For example, we blew a lot of balloons against the wall and hung a line colourful lights on the door to welcome our relatives. An hour later, they arrived.

I think it was an impressive party because we not only did a lot of traditional things at that party, but also tried some new activities.

1. We pasted a reversed FU on the door because that kind of element 横轴 1. We believe it could bring good fortune for us.
2. My grandma prepared a table of mouth-watering dishes to treat us. Her cooking skill can always tickle my taste buds, and that day was no exception.
3. We also played a new game after the dinner, but I don't know how to say the name of it in English. However, you and your family need to sit around the table or carpet first, and this game requires a person to stand up and gesture the thing which is opposite of what you say in your mouth. Like (比手势), big flower (小圈圈), small flower (大圈圈). If you are wrong, you will out. The punishment was to drink a glass of beer. (停顿 1s) oh (翻白眼), I hate alcohol.

However, it is the best party I've ever been to.

Part 3

- (1). How children celebrate their birthday party?
- (2). Do Chinese people like to have parties?
- (3). Should parents spend a lot of money on their children's birthday parties?
- (4). Why do some people dislike attending parties?

● A time you had to get up early

1. When it happened

-
2. What you did on that morning
 3. Why you had to get up so early

6 months ago, I was planning a trip to Hangzhou, and I chose the airplane to go because that city is far away from where I were. Hangzhou + 名位 title 历

I remember it was a Wednesday morning and I got up at about 4 am. I did a lot of things before I went to the airport, including packing my suitcase, reserving a taxi, eating the breakfast and so on.

I had to get up early for many reasons,

First, the plane ticket for Hangzhou at noon was very expensive. And I was a student, so I couldn't afford it. I mean; that's why I chose to book a really early flight.

Second, I made an appointment to meet my friend Peter in a local restaurant of Hangzhou at 12 o'clock, because we needed to talk about sth. important. If I hadn't chosen that early plane, I wouldn't have been able to get to Hangzhou before 12.

Generally speaking, that is the event what I want to say.

P3

- 1) When people may sleep in China?
- 2) Do people in your country like naps?
- 3) whether young people now have to wake up earlier than those in the past?
- 4) do you think waking up early is a health thing to do?
- 5) how staying up late influence a young person?
- 6) whether people nowadays stay up too late?
- 7) how serious sleep deprivation is in the modern world? [问 996 呢]

- Sth. you wanted to do but didn't have the time

- 1) What it was
- 2) When it happened
- 3) What you had tired about it
- 4) Why you didn't have time to do it

The thing I'd like to tell you was travelling to Hangzhou. I had this idea 2 months ago, but it didn't work out because I was too busy.

Hangzhou is a poetic and picturesque city located in the south of China + title+历

I put a lot of effort into that plan. For example, I looked up a lot of information about Hangzhou on the internet and made a detailed tour guide.

I wanted to travel to Hangzhou because I got to know from the documentary that Hangzhou has a lot of 横轴 2 + e.g., I was so eager to appreciate them in person; moreover, the documentary also introduces many mouth-watering dishes in that city, like Dongpo Pork and Longjin Shrimp. I am a foodie, so I intended to taste those foods.

I didn't fulfill that idea because of several reasons.

1st, I needed to struggle with my essay till the midnight every day at that time due to the deadline was approaching. Without it, I couldn't get my degree. So, I had no idea.

2nd, I also needed to prepare for my IELTS, because my English was not very good. I mean; I was required to read a lot of English books on a daily basis 2 months ago.

Generally speaking, that's the biggest regret so far.

P3

1. Why people often don't have time to get things done?

-
2. Do you think cell phones can help s manage time?
 3. What' s the difference between that people did in the past and what people do now?

- A time you received incorrect information

1. When it happened
2. What the information was
3. How you received it
4. How you found it was wrong and what did you do after that

Last spring festival, my older sister Anna invited all the relatives to her home to celebrate that holiday. + 春节介绍

She texted me to go to her house for a Spring festival party on the 3rd day of the first lunar month.

She also said that I had better come earlier to give her some help about decorating the home and preparing raw materials.

However, she wrote the date wrong, because on the morning of the 2nd day, she called me and asked why I hadn' t arrived yet. I was particularly puzzled.

I felt very sad, because I saw some photos ofthat day from their social media. They had a feast together. I mean; my sister made a lot of mouth-watering and toothsome dishes to treat family members, such as dongpo pork, kunpao chicken and peking duck. I am foodie, but I missed that day.

Moreover, they also did many recreational activities after the dinner, including lighting fireworks and playing mahjong. I was so jealous of them.

Whenever I think about it, I can' t help but want to make fun of my sister.

P3

-
- 1) What kind of working involves giving personal information?
 - 2) what' s the difference between sending messages via cell phone and email?
 - 3) Describe the advantages of doing business through email
 - 4) Do you think it is best to do business on the phone rather than email?
 - 5) how might the internet help people make sure the information they get is correct ?
 - 6) How people are influenced by information that is not correct?
 - 7) when the false information could be beneficial?

An unusual trip you enjoyed before

- An experience of teaching someone something new

- 1) When it happened
- 2) What the skill was
- 3) Who you taught to
- 4) How you felt about it

I taught my cousin Japanese last summer when I was on vacation in my hometown. Japanese is the official language of Japan, and which always be used in other Asian regions as well.

My cousin was only 10 years old at that time. And he was in grade 4 of primary school. In my eyes, he was rather cute with a pair of sparkling eyes and lovely dimples.

I taught him this skill because he was so interested in Japanese animation. I mean; he wanted to understand the plot of those films without subtitles. In order to meet his dream, I accepted him this requirement.

It was an unforgettable experience to me because I felt so exhausted about that actually.

The grammatical order and pronunciation habits of Japanese are rather different from

Chinese, so he always forgot the right way to organize a full sentence.

Moreover, as he was young, he often forgot the words what he remembered yesterday. In addition, my cousin also couldn't concentrate on one thing for over 1 hour. I mean; after only an hour of study, he had to play for a while, which made our progress intermittent.

However, it also gave me a sense of achievement. I was so proud of my little brother when he was able to have some simple conversations with me in Japanese.

I'd be happy to teach him something new if I had another chance.

P3

1. What skills do adults need to have?
2. How can people be motivated to learn new things?
3. Who should teach children to study, the parent or the teacher?

● A bad service you experienced

- 1) When it happened
- 2) Where it happened
- 3) Who you were with
- 4) Why the service was so bad

Last month, my friend John and I celebrated his 20th birthday at a Yunnan restaurant named Peter's Kitchen. It used to be a famous restaurant serving hotpot in my city.

Peter's Kitchen is located in the city centre, and which was built about 10 years ago. Its decoration style is particularly gorgeous. Besides, There are 3 floors, all with carved wooden windows.

JOHN + 名职年外性

No one received us after we arrived. As it is located in the centre of the city, we waited for an hour for the seat. But here' s the thing. During that hour, no one offered us water or snacks.

In addition, as we were not very hungry, we did not order much food. And the price of our order is not very expensive, so the waiter' s face was not good. What' s worse, the food they provided us had gone bad. We argued with the manager for 1 hour but with no result. They refused to apologise and just kept finding different excuses.

Finally, we paid half the price and left unhappily.

In my opinion, business in catering industry should treat everyone equally, and the service should not be decided according to what customers wear or what they order.

P3

1. Which occupations do you think need the good service?
2. How company can do to promote services?
3. How do you normally handle poor service?

7 月雅思口语预测班 :

1. 快速了解 7 月口语考试最新核心考题和答题技巧
2. 掌握最先进提高口语的技巧及方法
3. 与时俱进了解最新考官动向及判分基准
4. 有效备考 , 考前配送专属补丁课 (详情见报名链接)

7 月雅思口语预测班提分链接:

 <https://v.guixue.com/live/assistant/?id=1489>

✧ 报名福利:

✧ 群内配套 7 天发音练习(音频格式), 微信“小打卡”打卡练习, 仙子/助教点评。参照模版自行制定学习计划, 并配合“沧海玄机”梳理答题逻辑, 形成答题脉络图。(△课程结束当天起提供连续 7 天无限次循环课程回放。) 及群内助教答疑。

✧ 2019 年 5-8 月口语完整版讲义《耀舞云光》已发布在群文件中。笔试前一周发放六月雅思口语小范围预测专享版。