ADVISER:	Can you spell that please?
STUDENT:	Yes . . . I-E-N-N-Y-C-H-A-N.	Example
ADVISER:	Right . . . and what is your present address?
STUDENT:	Sea View Guest House, 14 Hill Road.	Q1
ADVISER:	OK, and do you know the phone number there?
STUDENT:	Yes . . . I have it here, ummm . . . 2237676, but I'm only there after about 7 pm.
ADVISER:	So when would be the best time to catch you?
STUDENT:	I suppose between 9 and 11 , let me see, half-past , before I leave for the college.	Q2
ADVISER:	Great . . . and can I ask you your age?
STUDENT:	I've just had my nineteenth birthday.
ADVISER:	And how long would you want to stay with the host family?
STUDENT:	I'm planning on staying a year but at the moment I'm definitely here for four months only. I have to get an extension to my permit.	Q3
ADVISER:	You're working on it? Fine . . . and what will be your occupation while you're in the UK?
STUDENT:	Studying English?
ADVISER:	And what would you say your level of English is?
STUDENT:	Umm. Good, I think I'd like to say 'advanced' but my written work is below the level of my spoken, so I suppose it's intermediate .	Q4
ADVISER:	Certainly your spoken English is advanced. Anyway , which area do you think you would prefer?
STUDENT:	Ummm, well I'm studying right in the centre but I'd really like to live in the north-west .	Q5
ADVISER:	That shouldn't be a great problem . . . we usually have lots of families up there.

	Anything about your actual room?
	I would prefer my own facilities - 'en suite', is that right? And also if it's possible a TV and I'd also like the house to have a real garden rather than just a yard, somewhere I could sit and be peaceful.	Q7
	Is that all?
	Well . . . I'm really serious about improving my English so I'd prefer to be the only guest if that's possible?	Q8
	No other guests . . . Yes, you get more practice that way. Anyway , obviously all this is partly dependent on how much you're willing to pay. What did you have in mind?
	I was thinking in terms of about £60-£80 a week but I'd go up to a hundred if it was something special.	Q9
	Well I don't think we'd have any problems finding something for you.
	Oh, good.
	And when would you want it for?
	I'd like to move in approximately two weeks.
	Let me see , it's the 10th today . . . so if we go for the Monday it's the 23rd March .	Q10
	Yes.
	Right . . . good, and if I could ask one last question . . .

HIROKO: I think that having to do a seminar presentation really helped me. For example, a couple of weeks ago in our marketing subject, when it was my turn to give a presentation I felt quite confident. Of course, I was still nervous but because I had done one before, I knew what to expect. Also, I know I was well-prepared and I had practised my timing. In fact, I think that in relation to some of the other people in my group, I did quite a good job because my overall style was quite professional. What about you, Hiroko?

Q21

HIROKO: Mmm, that's interesting. In my group, I was really surprised by the way the students did their presentations – they just read their notes aloud! Can you believe that? They didn't worry about their presentation style or keeping eye contact with their audience – and I remember that these things were really stressed to us in the course here.

Q22

HIROKO: Well, to speak frankly, I read my notes too! At the time, it was a relief to do it this way, but actually when I had finished, I didn't feel any real sense of satisfaction. I didn't feel positive about the experience at all.

Q23

SPIROS: That's a pity. You know, although I was pleased with my presentation, I am not so pleased with my actual performance right now in the tutorials – during the whole semester I've not said anything in our tutorial discussions. Not a word.

Q24

HIROKO: Really, Spiros? Why's that? Do the other students talk too much?

SPIROS: It's partly that, but it's mostly because I have had no confidence to speak out. Their style of speaking is so different – it's not the style we were used to during the course. They use so many colloquialisms, they're not very polite and sometimes there seems to be no order in their discussion. Also, they are very familiar with each other, so because they know each other's habits, they can let each other into the discussion.

Q25

HIROKO: You're right, Spiros, I've experienced that too.

HIROKO: For most of this semester, I've said absolutely nothing in tutorials. But recently, I've been trying to speak up more and I just jump in, and I've noticed an interesting thing, I've noticed that if they thought my point was interesting or new, then the next time they actually asked for my opinion, and then it was much easier for me to be part of the discussion.

Q26

SPIROS: That's great, Hiroko! I hope that happens for me next semester – I'll have to work hard to find some interesting points. What helped you to find these ideas?

HIROKO: I think that one thing that helped me with this was the reading. I've had to do so much reading this semester just to help me make sense of the lectures. At first I couldn't understand what the lecturers were talking about, so I had to turn to the books and journals. Every night I read for hours, using the lists of references that were given, and I made pages of notes. At breakfast, I read and read my notes again. This habit has helped me to follow the ideas in the lectures, and it's also given me some ideas to use in the tutorials.

Q27

SPIROS: But I did so much reading anyway – I don't think there's any time left over for anything extra. My reading speed is still quite slow, though I'm much better at dealing with vocabulary than I used to be.

Q28

TEACHER: What else do you think we could add to the course program to help with this reading problem?

SPIROS: There's not really anything because it's my problem. I remember we were given long articles to read. We didn't like that but now I realise that reading those long articles was good preparation for the things I need to read now. Also, in class we regularly had speed-reading tasks to do, and we kept a record of our reading speed, so the teachers were encouraging us to work on that.

HIROKO: That's true Spiros, but what we read could have been different. Sometimes in the English class I felt frustrated when I had to read articles about the environment or health or education, because I wanted to concentrate on my own field, but we didn't read anything about engineering. So, I think I wasted some time learning vocabulary I didn't need.

HIROKO: Yes, but psychologically speaking, I would have felt much better working on reading from my own field. Q30
 SPIROS: I agree; that would have helped my confidence too and I would have been more motivated. It was good though that we could work on our own topics when we wrote the research assignments.
 TEACHER: Okay, let's move on to writing now ...

27 Janice believes managers should

- A demonstrate good behaviour.
- B encourage co-operation early on.
- C increase financial incentives.

TUTOR: So do you think being a good team player is overrated?
JANICE: No, it's not overrated. You do need to learn the rules and learn them fast. No individual can get around this if you're working in an organization.
TUTOR: So how should managers deal with this?
JANICE: Rewards. When an individual demonstrates the behaviour the organisation expects, some kind of incentive can be given. What's important here is that this happens right at the beginning so new recruits learn the rules of the system immediately. Also the incentive should be something the individual actually wants, and this isn't always just money.

DIANA: So, Tim, we have to do a short summary of our work experience on a farm.
 TIM: Right. My farm was great, but arranging the work experience was hard. One problem was it was miles away and I don't drive. And also, I'd really wanted a placement for a month, but I could only get one for two weeks.
 DIANA: I was lucky, the farmer let me stay on the farm so I didn't have to travel. But finding the right sort of farm to apply to wasn't easy.
 TIM: No, they don't seem to have websites, do they. I found mine through a friend of my mother's, but it wasn't easy.

 DIANA: No.
 TIM: My farm was mostly livestock, especially sheep. I really enjoyed helping out with them. I was up most of one night helping a sheep deliver a lamb ...
 DIANA: On your own?
 TIM: No, the farmer was there, and he told me what to do. It wasn't a straightforward birth, but I managed. It was a great feeling to see the lamb stagger to its feet and start feeding almost straightaway, and to know that it was OK.

TIM: Then another time a lamb had broken its leg, and they got the vet in to set it, and he talked me through what he was doing. That was really useful.

DIANA: Yes, my farm had sheep too. The farm was in a valley and they had a lowland breed called Suffolks, although the farmer said they'd had other breeds in the past.

TIM: So were they bred for their meat?

DIANA: Mostly, yes. They're quite big and solid.

DIANA: Oh, I heard their wool's really sought after.

TIM: Yes. It's very hardwearing and they use it for carpets.

DIANA: Right.

TIM: I was interested in the amount of supplements they add to animals' feed nowadays. Like, even the chickens got extra vitamins and electrolytes in their feed.

DIANA: Yes, I found that too. And they're not cheap. But my farmer said some are overpriced for what they are. And he didn't give them as a matter of routine, just at times when the chickens seemed to particularly require them.

TIM: Yes, mine said the same. He said certain breeds of chickens might need more supplements than the others, but the cheap and expensive ones are all basically the same.

TIM:

So did your farm have any other livestock, Diana?

DIANA:

Yes, dairy cows. I made a really embarrassing mistake when I was working in the milk shed. Some cows had been treated with antibiotics, so their milk wasn't suitable for human consumption, and it had to be put in a separate container. But I got mixed up, and I poured some milk from the wrong cow in with the milk for humans, so the whole lot had to be thrown away. The farmer wasn't too happy with me.

TIM:

I asked my farmer how much he depended on the vet to deal with health problems. I'd read reports that the livestock's health is being affected as farmers are under pressure to increase production. Well, he didn't agree with that, but he said that actually some of the stuff the vets do, like minor operations, he'd be quite capable of doing himself.

Yeah. My farmer said the same. But he reckons vets' skills are still needed.

SECTION 2

Good morning. I'm very pleased to have this opportunity to say a little about two exciting new developments in the city: the Brackenside Open-Air Swimming Pool and the children's Adventure Playground in Central Park. As many of you may know, the idea for these initiatives came from you, the public, in the extensive consultation exercise which the City Council conducted last year. And they have been realised using money from the SWRDC – the South West Regional Development Commission.

Q11

First of all, Brackenside Pool. As many of the older members of the audience will remember, there used to be a wonderful open-air pool on the sea front 30 years ago but it had to close when it was judged to be unsafe. For the design of this new heated pool, we were very happy to secure the talents of internationally renowned architect Ellen Wendon, who has managed to combine a charming 1930s design, which fits in so well with many of the other buildings in the area, with up-to-the-minute features such as a recycling system – the only one of its kind in the world – which enables seawater to be used in the pool.

Q12

Now, there has been quite a bit of discussion in the local press about whether there would be enough room for the number of visitors we're hoping to attract, but the design is deceptive and there have been rigorous checks about capacity. Also, just in case you were wondering, we're on schedule for a June 15th opening date and well within budget: a testimony to the excellent work of local contractors Hickman's.

Q13

We hope that as many people as possible will be there on June 15th. We have engaged award-winning actress Coral White to declare the pool open and there'll be drinks and snacks available at the pool side. There'll also be a competition for the public to decide on the sculpture we plan to have at the entrance: you will decide which famous historical figure from the city we should have.
