Topic 1 未实现的志向

1. Is it important for children to have ambitions?

Yes, I think it's important for children to have ambitions. They should have a goal that they can work towards¹. It helps keep them motivated through everyday life. In the process of pursuing their dreams, they can also learn how to stick to their goals and not be afraid of challenges. Plus, it gives them a sense of achievement² when they accomplish their goals.

2. Are all ambitions good in life?

No, I don't think all ambitions are good in life. Sometimes, ambitions can be too self-centred³. For example, some people only want to get rich. They don't care about what it might cost them. I think those kinds of goals are too vain⁴. So there are definitely some ambitions that are toxic⁵.

3. What are the important qualities to achieve our ambitions?

I think you need to be hard-working and patient. For one, you should make a realistic plan and work hard to follow it. You have to put your best effort into⁶ making your dreams come true. Besides, you have to be persistent, even if you fail a couple times. If you don't have the dedication⁷, you might quit before you make it.

4. What ambitions do children usually have?

Children usually have big ambitions about⁸ what their future will look like. Adults like to ask children, what do you want to be when you grow up? Children always have really exciting answers like astronaut or famous athlete. They also may have ambitions about their personal lives, like when they will get married and have their own families. I think it's a reflection of⁹ different kids' personalities.

5. Why are some people very ambitious in their work?

I suppose that it's mainly because they want to get promoted¹⁰. They might start as an intern¹¹, but they want to become a manager or CEO. Some people become more ambitious because they're insecure. They are often worried that they aren't good enough and might be laid off¹² some day. It's really normal in China because our society is so competitive.

6. Why don't some people have dreams?

Some people don't have dreams because they're unsure of what to do with their lives¹³. They haven't found out what they're passionate about. But others are too afraid to dream something big. They're worried about how much time and effort they'll have to put into pursuing the dream¹⁴. For example, a lot of people love reading or listening to music. But they don't dream of being professional writers or musicians.

7. How do people balance work and life?

Well, I think one strategy is to ensure that your work life and your home life are physically separated¹⁵. It allows you to be more focused at work and be more productive, so you will have more spare time for your family. Another strategy is to set boundaries with your work¹⁶. For example, you can set a rule to not check your work email after 7pm everyday so that you can enjoy more family time at night.

2. What are the advantages and disadvantages when people keep busy?

One big advantage is that people can be more active. They can work out, hang out with friends, and do other things that make them happy. But people can get too busy and forget to relax. They might get overly stressed¹⁸ and suffer from bad physical or mental health¹⁹.

3. Do you think children should learn through playing games or under pressure?

I think that children should learn by playing games. They can learn new things without feeling overly stressed. Plus, they can have fun through the game itself. But if they're under pressure²⁰, they'll feel anxious. They might have a really bad experience. Then they might not want to learn things anymore.

4. What kind of pressure people may experience at work?

At work, people might feel the pressure to do better than their coworkers. Some companies make you feel like you have to compete against others in order to stand out²¹. Depending on the job, people might also feel pressure to perform a certain way²². For example, salespeople often have to sell a certain number of products per day.

That way, you can be prepared for anything. You should also be flexible. You have to be able to handle challenges whenever they come up²⁴.

2. How can parents help children get organized?

I suppose that parents can help children get organized by listing their daily tasks. Then, children can focus on doing one task at a time. Parents can also help children manage their time well. They can divide the day into sections²⁵ and help their kids plan what to do for each hour.

3. On what occasions do people need to be organized?

People need to be organized for important events, like vacations. When you go on a trip, you need to keep track of all the details²⁶, like your flight and hotel. For example, many people deal with countless²⁷ emails, files and calls in the office during the day, so they have to know how to manage their work efficiently.

4. Does everything need to be well prepared?

Well, yes, I suppose that everyone can benefit from being more prepared and organized in their lives. When people are well-prepared, they feel more confident. Being organized also helps with time management. If you are well-organized, you can complete more tasks in a day. Also, people in your life will think of you as reliable and trustworthy²⁸ if you're always prepared.

5. Do people need others' help when organizing things?

Well, yes. If some people are bad at time management, or if they are just new in a professional field²⁹, then, I think it's really nice to have someone to help them get organized. There are a lot of professions that help people become organized, including accountants, travel agents, and teachers. Family and friends can also help each other become more organized by giving advice when needed.

2. What kinds of events do people usually celebrate?

People usually celebrate events like weddings, graduations, and birthdays. Birthday and anniversary celebrations happen every year, but weddings and graduations happen less often. So they usually involve a bigger party. Anyway, I think people usually celebrate big successes in life to encourage each other. It makes people feel proud of their accomplishments³¹.

3. Do people often celebrate events with a large group of people or just a few people?

I think it depends on the type of event. Larger events like weddings usually have a lot of people at them³². The bride and groom want to invite all of their family and friends. Smaller events like birthdays might not have as many people³³. Sometimes people want to celebrate with their closest friends rather than everyone they know.

4. Do people often celebrate festivals with families?

I don't think it's good for people to be unhappy. Sometimes it might motivate people to change things in their life so they'll be happier. But it's not usually good to be unhappy. It helps the festival feel special.

3. Is it hard to choose a gift?

Yes, I think that sometimes it can be stressful. If you don't know the person well, you might not know what they like. It can be difficult finding something that they'll want to have. It can still be hard if you know the person well. You might have a lot of ideas for a gift, but it can be challenging to⁴⁶ pick the best one.

4. Is clothing a good gift? Is it easy to choose a piece of clothing as a gift?

Well, sometimes clothing can be a good gift. If you know the person's style, it'll probably be easy to find something they'll like. But it can be hard to choose a piece of clothing as a gift. 5. Will people feel happy when receiving an expensive gift?

I think most people feel happy when they get an expensive gift. Gifts are a way of showing someone that you care about them. When that gift is expensive, people feel special because they realize that it cost a lot to give⁴⁸. But not everyone cares about the cost of a gift. Some people might even feel overwhelmed by getting something too expensive, especially if the gift-giver is not very well off⁴⁹.

6. What do people usually consider when choosing gifts?

People usually consider price first. I would say most people have a budget⁵⁰ when they buy a gift. In most cases, people won't break their budget⁵¹ and buy things that are too expensive. Besides, people will also consider if the gift will be useful or attractive to the person who receives it. After all, people give gifts to make others happy, right?

Yes, I give my friends and my cousins clothes all the time. We usually exchange clothes if we get tired of wearing them⁵², or if they don't fit anymore. Giving people clothes is much more helpful than just throwing the clothes away⁵³. It's very wasteful if you only wear something a couple times.

2. Why do people dress casually in everyday life but dress formally at work?

Well, in everyday life, you're just hanging out with friends or family. Or you might even be by yourself. You don't have to impress anyone. But when you're at work, you're doing serious business. You need to look professional. In most cases⁵⁴, it's actually considered rude to wear casual clothes to the workplace. It shows a lack of respect for⁵⁵ your coworkers and boss.

3. What are the advantages and disadvantages of wearing uniforms at work and school?

One advantage of uniforms is that it makes everyone equal. Especially in school, people can get very focused on appearances. But if everyone has a uniform on, then no one can be judged⁵⁶. Uniforms also make everyone feel like part of the same team. But a disadvantage is that people can't express themselves. You don't get as much individuality⁵⁷.

4. Why do people from different countries wear different clothing?

Well, fashion is very connected to culture. It represents different cultural values and is influenced by trends in society⁵⁸. Different countries have different values and traditions, so their fashion is very different as well. Besides, clothing depends on the environment. For example, countries with cold climates wear warmer, heavier clothing. But in tropical countries⁵⁹, it's more common to wear loose, bright clothing.

5. Do you think dressing formally makes people look more professional?

Yes, I think that dressing formally makes you look more professional. If you're wearing a T-shirt and jeans, you come across as a more relaxed person. But if you're wearing a fancy dress, or a nice suit, then you look confident and mature. It helps you appear professional to others⁶⁰. Topic 8 特别的蛋糕

1. What is the difference between special food in China and foreign countries?

Well, a lot of special foods in China use more unique parts of the animal⁶². It means that every part of the animal can be eaten. For example, rabbit heads and duck necks are so popular in China. In contrast, some foreign countries have special dishes that avoid using meat altogether⁶³. They're always known for different kinds of desserts.

2. Do people usually cook special food in China?

We usually cook special foods for certain occasions⁶⁴. I mean, special foods like mooncakes or rice dumplings can be bought at grocery stores. But lots of Chinese people still enjoy the process of making them at home. For example, it's a tradition for the whole family to make dumplings together on the Spring Festival Eve. It's an important bonding time⁶⁵ for the family every year.

3. Should special food be easily available?

I think that if the special food requires an ingredient that's seasonal, it doesn't need to be easily available. It's worth it to only make something when it's in season⁶⁶. For example, hairy crabs⁶⁷ are only available in the autumn, which is a special food for Mid-Autumn Day in China. It helps make the dish feel truly special.

4. When do people have special food? (like festival food or food for special events)

I think people eat special food when they have something to celebrate. For example, you usually get to eat cake when it's someone's birthday. Many people also like to celebrate a new house or graduation with a fancy feast⁶⁸. Besides, you can cook and enjoy traditional foods during certain festivals.

6. Why are some people willing to spend a lot of money on meals on special days?

For them, it's worth it to spend a lot of money to celebrate something. But the memories and joy from the meal will make it worth it⁷².

7. Do you think it's good to communicate when eating with your family?

Yes, communicating during mealtimes with family is very important. Family members might not be able to spend a lot of time together because of work or school. 1. What decisions do people usually make in their daily lives?

People make lots of decisions in their daily lives. For example, they have to choose what to eat every day. Sometimes they might have to choose between cooking a meal or ordering food. People also have to decide how they'll spend their free time. There are lots of options to choose from.

2. Which is easier, making a decision by yourself or making a decision after group discussion?

It depends. Sometimes it's better to make a decision by yourself. If everyone's giving their opinion, it might be harder to figure out⁷⁵ what you really want. But in other cases, you might actually want other people's advice. That's helpful when the decision is something you're unsure about.

3. Why are many young people unwilling to follow their parents' advice?

I think that young people are unwilling to follow their parents' advice because they want to make their own choices. Young people grow up having to do everything their parents say⁷⁶. Once they become teenagers or young adults, they want to be independent. They want to show that they can make their own decisions about their life.

4. Why would middle-aged people tend to second-guess their own decisions?

Middle-aged people usually have to make more important decisions than younger people. They have a lot of family and work responsibilities. This means that any decision they make will affect other people. So they spend more time doubting themselves⁷⁷ than a young person would. Plus, when you're older, you realize that your instinct isn't always right⁷⁸. So middle-aged people have to think carefully before making a decision.

(Copyrights to 雅思过过过淘宝店铺)

⁷⁸ your instinct isn't always right: 你的直觉并不总是正确的

Topic 10 别人向你寻求意见

1. Do children like to change their opinion?

I don't think children like to change their opinion. Children like to do things in their own ways⁷⁹ and sometimes it's hard to persuade them to change opinion. For example, some children hate taking baths. They won't want to change their opinion because they don't enjoy it. So you might have to explain why baths are helpful in order for them to like them.

2. What kinds of jobs require people to frequently give opinions?

If you work in advertising or marketing, you have to give your opinion a lot. That type of work is very subjective⁸⁰ and depends on creative ideas. You have to share your ideas about how to make the campaign successful. Or if you work in management, you have to give your opinion on the campaign and suggest changes⁸¹.

3. What reasons might people have for not wanting to give their opinions?

People might be worried that they'll be judged for their opinions⁸². If everyone around you likes a movie, but you didn't enjoy it, you might feel excluded⁸³. Plus, you don't want to make people feel bad for their opinions. Besides, sometimes people don't like giving their opinions because they don't want others to know about their thoughts.

4. Do you think it would be a good idea for schools to ask students their opinions about lessons?

It could be helpful if schools asked students for their opinions about lessons. For one⁸⁴, it would make the students feel important. That can make them feel better about learning. 1. Is it easier for young people to change?

Yes, I think that it's easier for young people to change because they're more flexible than older people. Older people get used to doing things a certain way⁸⁶. So it is harder for them to change. Young people are still figuring out who they are and what their values are. So change comes much easier to them.

2. Is it easy for old people to change?

I suppose that old people have a much harder time changing than young people. They're used to a certain way of doing things. They can sometimes have trouble changing their ways or trying new things. Old people may even get upset if they are asked to change. That's why some old people are called stubborn⁸⁷.

3. What are the disadvantages when people keep making changes?

When people keep making changes, they might find it hard to establish a regular routine⁸⁸. For example, if you change jobs a lot, it's hard to have a routine because your hours might change. Or you might have a different commute each time. Plus, it's hard to form good relationships with neighbours and coworkers if you move around a lot.

4. How can people change their daily routine if they want to?

I think that people can change their daily routine in lots of little ways. They could try biking to work instead of driving or taking public transportation. Or they could start the day by exercising. They can also change how and what they eat. It's surprising how much cooking versus picking up breakfast can change your routine⁸⁹.

2. What do people normally do to keep fit and healthy in your country?

In my country, people can do lots of activities to keep fit and healthy. People can either walk or run every day, work out at a gym⁹², or join a fitness class. Many people also like to do their physical activity outdoors. They can go on hikes or go swimming. It's also good to eat healthy foods.

3. How can parents help and guide their kids to keep healthy?

Parents can help keep their kids healthy by encouraging them to eat healthy foods and get lots of exercise. Parents should be good role models for⁹³ their kids by making healthy meals at home. They should also get their kids involved in⁹⁴ some kind of sport or fitness activity.

4. Do you think it is a good way for governments to use the power of idol to help people build health awareness?

I think that it can be somewhat effective⁹⁵ if the government uses celebrities to help people learn more about their health. It can be especially effective with young people, since they listen to celebrities more than others. If their favorite celebrity encourages them to do more exercise and be aware of what they eat⁹⁶, they might change their habits.

3. Why are there more noises made at home now than in the past?

I think that's due to the rise of technology. For example, in the past, not every house had a TV. But nowadays, it's very common for families to have multiple TVs, plus other devices¹⁴⁹. So when you have people watching TV or watching videos on their phone, it can easily get really noisy.

4. Which place is quieter, the city or the countryside?

The countryside is definitely quieter. In cities, there's always a lot going on¹⁵⁰. You can hear noise from cars, public transportation, and crowds of people. 3. How does technology affect the way people spend their leisure time?

I would say that technology can limit the way people spend their leisure time¹⁵⁶. Nowadays, many people just look at their phones instead of doing anything active. That being said¹⁵⁷, technology can sometimes help people bond. For example, if you can't hang out with your friends in person, you can do a video call¹⁵⁸ and spend time that way.

4. Do you think only old people have time for leisure?

Well, I suppose that old people probably have the most time for leisure. They are usually retired, so they can do whatever they want. But they're definitely not the only ones who have time for leisure¹⁵⁹.

1. What are the rules students should follow at school?

I think that a good rule is respecting everyone at school. Whether it's their teachers or their peers¹⁶⁷, students need to be polite. They shouldn't be rude or disrespectful to people. Students should also try to avoid interrupting lessons¹⁶⁸. It can be very distracting to the other students who are trying to learn.

For example, some schools forbid female students from having long hair. Rules like that can make students frustrated.

3. What rules should children follow at home?

I think children should follow some basic rules. For example, they should go to bed on time; and they should only watch TV when their parents allow them to. Generally speaking, parents know what's best for them. The rules at home are there to encourage the children's growth¹⁷¹, both mentally and physically. So children need to listen to their parents and follow their rules.

4. How are people punished when parking in a wrong spot?

People usually get punished for parking in the wrong spot by getting a ticket. That ticket usually comes with an expensive fine. Most people think parking tickets are ridiculous. 5. Do people in your country often break rules?

Most people in my country obey the law¹⁷⁴. But of course, there are always exceptions¹⁷⁵. I think whenever people break the law regularly, it's usually a traffic law. Topic 23 帮助提高专注力的东西

I think it's harder for children to concentrate nowadays because there are more distractions. In the past, children didn't have access to digital devices¹⁷⁷. But nowadays, lots of children have tablets or mobile phones. I've seen tons of children who like to scroll on their cellphones from time to time¹⁷⁸ when they study. It makes them hard to focus.

2. Do you think technology will harm children's ability to concentrate?

Yes, I definitely think technology has a negative effect on¹⁷⁹ children's ability to concentrate. Nowadays, children like to play games on their tablets or cellphones instead of focusing on conversation. So it's hard for them to focus on the person in front of them for a long time. Plus, a lot of children have grown a bad habit of scrolling on their cellphones while studying or doing homework.

3. What kinds of jobs require high concentration at work?

I suppose any job that affects other people requires a lot of concentration. For example, any job in the medical field¹⁸⁰ requires you to be very focused. If you get distracted while operating heavy machinery, you might hurt someone.

4. Can exercise help people improve concentration?

Yes, I think exercise can help improve concentration. Take yoga as an example¹⁸², when you have to slow down and focus on your breathing, it helps you become more focused in general. Well, people often lose small objects, like their phones, wallets, or keys. These things are easy to lose because they can easily fall out of people's pockets¹⁸³. Plus, since we use them so often, we don't always pay much attention to them. So sometimes we can't remember where we left them.

2. What do people often do when losing things?

People can try to go back to places they visited throughout the day. If that doesn't work¹⁸⁴, people can call friends to help them look. Plus, if they lose something like keys or wallets, they can use mobile trackers that attach to their keys or wallets¹⁸⁵. That way, they can find them through a GPS system.

3. Is it an effective way to use rewards to find lost things?

Yes, I think offering rewards can be a good way to find lost things. For example, many people will put up signs offering a cash reward¹⁸⁶ if they have lost a pet. This motivates people to look for the lost pet and return it to its proper owner. I don't think people should return things they found for money, but it's true that rewards increase the chances of finding things back.

4. What kinds of people may lose things often?

I would say that distracted people¹⁸⁷ are most likely to lose things often. It's hard for them to stay organized. So they may be more likely to lose things. Older people with memory issues¹⁸⁸ are also more likely to lose things. They often forget where they left them.

I think the most helpful innovation at home is the microwave. Honestly, I use it all the time. I love using the microwave to make quick, easy meals¹⁸⁹. It's not always the healthiest, but it saves a lot of time. Plus, it's great for heating leftover food¹⁹⁰.

2. What household appliances make us lazy?

The first one I can think of is automatic can openers¹⁹¹. It doesn't take a lot of energy to open a can with a manual opener¹⁹². The battery-powered ones can make you lazy if you rely on them all the time. Another one I can think of is robot vacuums¹⁹³. They help people clean the floors automatically. Lots of people who bought the robot vacuums don't sweep floors anymore.

3. What kind of invention can be used at school?

There are lots of modern inventions that can be used at school. One of the most obvious ones is a handheld calculator¹⁹⁴. Obviously, it's good for students to learn how to do simple calculations without a calculator. But for harder types of math¹⁹⁵, a calculator is very helpful.

4. Do you think AI will replace human teachers? Why?

No, I don't think so. Being a teacher involves building relationships with students. Teachers are an essential part of their students' childhood. With their guidance and support, kids can grow up into happy, independent adults. AI can teach concepts, but it can't teach life skills or empathy. So I don't think that AI will replace human teachers.

Topic 26 堵车的经历

1. How can we solve the traffic jam problem?

One way to improve traffic is to make changes to the roads. For example, more lanes could be added to major highways¹⁹⁶. There could also be more alternative routes¹⁹⁷ so that the highways don't get too busy. Besides, motivating people to find other ways of commuting can help reduce traffic on major roads and highways.

2. Do you think developing public transport can solve traffic jam problems?

Yes, I think developing public transportation is a great way to solve traffic jam problems. If there are less people driving on the roads, there will be less traffic. So it could help to expand bus and subway systems¹⁹⁸. It's also good to make fare less expensive¹⁹⁹. Then people will want to commute instead of driving their own car.

3. Do you think the highways will help reduce traffic jams?

I suppose that highways can help reduce traffic jams a little bit. When there are highways with lots of lanes, there are less cars in each lane. That helps prevent traffic jams. However, highways can also encourage traffic jams²⁰⁰. Everyone will take the highway instead of other routes. So highways can't reduce traffic jams on their own²⁰¹.

4. What are good ways to manage traffic?

Improving public transportation helps manage traffic. People are motivated to commute²⁰² instead of driving their own cars. That reduces the number of cars on the road, which prevents more traffic jams. Spacing out intersections²⁰³ is also helpful, since it prevents too many cars from being in one place.

Topic 27 用手机做重要的事

1. What are the differences between young people and old people when using a cellphone?

I would say that young people depend more on their cellphones. They use their phones for everything. Lots of them are anxious when they're away from their cellphones. However, old people don't trust cellphones as much. They tend to just use them to make phone calls or send texts.

2. Which one is more important, using a cellphone to make phone calls or to read messages?

I suppose that using a cellphone to read messages is more important. Even though making phone calls is the most basic function of cellphones, people don't use their phones to call as much²⁰⁴. They usually prefer texting because it gives them more time to respond. It's less stressful than making phone calls. So from people's cellphone habits, I can see that²⁰⁵ texting is more important than making phone calls.

3. Do you think there should be a law to stop people from making phone calls in public?

I don't think it should be prohibited, but it should definitely be limited. There are some good examples of kids' advertising.
