第一句 But this doesn't mean that...

这个半句的意思是：（尽管）事实是怎样怎样的，但是这并不代表+从句（怎样怎样）。

- We are your employees, but this doesn't mean that we must obey you unconditionally.
- I support this measure, but it doesn't mean that I support you without reservation.
- I like you, but this doesn't mean that I'll marry you.

DIALOGUES:

Wife: Dear, we have been driving around aimlessly for hours. Don't you think we should ask for directions?

Husband: Look honey, maybe we've been driving for a long time, but this doesn't mean that we're lost.

Wife: Really? Then what have we been doing all this time?

Husband: Well, we're taking the scenic route.

Wife: Oh, I see. You just don't want to admit that we're lost. You know, sometimes you're too proud.

Husband: OK, we're lost, but this does not mean that you have to rub it in.

第二句: So...that...

太怎么样，以至于怎么样。

- I was so interested in the film that I went to see it several times.
- It's so hot that none of us want to go out.
- He speaks French so well that we think he is a Frenchman.

DIALOGUES:

A: Can you believe the weather we're been having lately?

B: Yeah, it's really hot, isn't it?

A: It's so hot that you can fry an egg on the sidewalk.

B: Maybe you're exaggerating a little bit.

A: OK, maybe it's not that hot. But it's hot enough to get a heat stroke.

B: You make it sound so hot, I don't want to leave my air-conditioned house.

第三句: ... to the point that...

以至于。。。

-His nose is so big to the point that his face looks so small.

-He came home so late yesterday to the point that everybody fell asleep.

-They like each other so much to the point that they need to see each other every day.
