清晰的文章分段

- Putting criminals into prisons is not an effective way to deal with them. Instead, education and job training should be offered. To what extent do you agree or disagree?
- 开头段落：
- How to handle criminals is a problem that all countries and societies face. Traditionally, the approach has been to punish them by placing them in prisons to pay for what have done. Some, however, advocate for trying to make them better with training and education and it seems that they may have a good point. I do agree with their view.

得分点1：清晰的文章分段

- 主体段落：

- First of all, consider all the money that we have to spend to lock people up in jail. It does not seem like a good use of public money if the people do not actually get any better. Because most criminals eventually are let out of prison, our focus should be on making them better citizens.
- In fact, the reason why many people end up in jail in the first place is because they did not have a good education or happy family. So, if they can learn job skills, they perhaps can find work and feel they can contribute in a positive way. If they do this, they will not need to commit crimes. Surely everyone deserves a second chance.

得分点1：清晰的文章分段

- Of course this does not mean that we should be too lenient on criminals. Those who commit crime should be punished, but during the punishment they should also be treated. If we make an investment in them and show compassion, most will be able to make a new start.

得分点1：清晰的文章分段

结尾段落：

To summarize, we must make more effort to go to the root of the problem. We need to treat criminals as patients and give them the medicine they need: education and training. By giving people the skills for a second chance we can make our society safer and healthier.

清晰的文章分段

● 报告文体

Why is this the case? How to solve it?

These days, an increasing number of people from many cities know little about their neighbors and do not have a sense of community. What do you think are the causes and what solutions can you suggest?

1. Introduction

The phenomenon that the relationship with neighbors is not intimate has drawn increasingly widespread concern. In my view, the reasons leading to this trend are manifold, and this can be reversed.

2. 第一个原因

3. 第二个原因

4. 解决措施

5. Conclusion

To conclude, although it seems rather challenging to promote social bond with neighbors, it can be achieved through combined efforts. After all, in the long term, it can be beneficial to social harmony.

得分点3： 清晰的论点句解释说明

- 论点句： parents normally are concerned about the misleading effect of advertisements on children.
- 支持句： Young children lack the ability to make wise decisions as to what they really want, who are attracted by the colorful pictures and animations in the advertisement. When informed that those advertised items like fast food, fizzy drinks and potato chips can bring energy, happiness and love, children might believe they are not detrimental to health. So, they pressurize their parents to buy those things.

得分点3： 清晰的论点句解释说明

- 论点句: advertisements provide necessary information to the children.
- 支持句: This means, the exposure to advertisements is a way for children to get to know the world where they live and to identify the features and functions of various items .For instance, the advert of toothpaste tells children to brush our teeth twice daily and regularly brushing teeth is beneficial to health. Moreover, some advertisements also highlight the importance of saving water and electricity, keeping our surroundings clean and planting trees. Children are motivated by these ads and try to follow them.

论点句展开练习

- 预测 7: requiring children to participate in unpaid community service can develop their sense of social responsibility.
